adopted an amendment which excludes corporations, which I supported from the consideration of the tax from the individual and the corporate. Now there in a sense of fairness I voted against LB 123. I'm wondering if this body wants to look at this in view of what we done this afternoon. If this is the pleasure of the Legislature it can be discussed tomorrow morning. If not, it can be rode over. This body can either reconsider or not reconsider at that time. We have argued at length in the day. I'd be hopeful that you'd leave this lay until in the morning, have our conversation at that time on LB 123. If it is the desire of this body not to reconsider after a certain amount of debate then it can go on over to the Governor and be there in plenty of time for a veto, if the Governor so desires. A request has been made for this 567 by this body. I would be hopeful that we could go on with our work and get 567 completed and discuss 123 tomorrow.

SENATOR SAVAGE: Senator Warner.

SENATOR WARNER: I understand, Senator Burbach, the purpose is to kill the bill, right? Or to reconsider killing it maybe I should say. OK. Are we going to vote on whether the bill was to be held, Mr. President?

SENATOR SAVAGE: I'm talking to somebody, just a minute please.

SENATOR WARNER: Certainly.

SENATOR SAVAGE: There's a unanimous request . . . or there's an objection. Do you want to move now that . . .

SPEAKER: What was the question sir?

SENATOR SAVAGE: Unanimous consent was objected to. Do you wish to move for reconsideration?

SPEAKER: Well I'd be hopeful we could do this at some other time. This body has agreed to discuss 567 after the order. I would be hopeful we wouldn't have all the intervening interruptions tomorrow morning, if this body so desires, to reconsider the bill. If they don't want to they don't need to consider it then. I would be hopeful that we could do it at that time.

SENATOR SAVAGE: Next motion is up. Senator Kelly.

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President, I don't believe there's anything before the House because now that . . .

SENATOR SAVAGE: You're correct.

SENATOR KELLY: That bill belongs to this Legislature until it gets to the Governor. It's not at the Governor. The Speaker should be in control of what happens to that bill.
